

THE NEWS BY WIRE
FROM WASHINGTONFORECAST OF THE FORTH-COMING MESSAGE.

All the Revenue-Raising Measures Likely to Be Left to Congress—Lively Scramble Over the Distribution of the House Offices—Will Favor the Gold Standard.

Washington, Nov. 25.—There is much interest manifested in the president's forthcoming message. Some Democrats who have the confidence of the president say they have reason to believe that the president will devote his message largely to an exposition of his views on the financial situation, and that he will decline to assume responsibility for positive recommendations to congress as to the means of replenishing the revenue. If the president shall refrain from suggesting any plan which he can approve he will not give to congress any guide which will enable that body to frame a practical measure which would insure its enactment by the two houses and his own approval.

As to the finances, the report is that the message will reaffirm the platform of the Reform Club of New York in favor of the single standard of absolute gold monometallism, and the retirement of the greenback, and possibly free banking, both state and national. It is known absolutely that the principal planks of President Cleveland's personal platform are gold monometallism, the retirement of the greenback, and free banking. Speaker Reed has been here a few hours, but no one claims to know what his purpose is regarding the committees. It will be safe to assume that no credence should be given to any pretended interviews with him on the subject of the committees, or the speakership. He has distinctly said that he will furnish no information on that subject, and he will doubtless keep his word.

There is, perhaps, more interest manifested in the disposition of the Maine delegation than in that of any other delegation. The speaker is embarrassed there by an abundance of good material. He can scarcely afford to displace Mr. Dingley or Mr. Boutelle, the former of whom is mentioned for the chairmanship of ways and means, while Mr. Boutelle, by unanimous consent, should go to the chairmanship of naval affairs. Mr. Milliken is also the ranking candidate for the chairmanship of the committee on public buildings and grounds. Yet it would be very awkward for the speaker to give three leading chairmanships to Maine. It is not forgotten that Mr. Dingley, by an act of special grace and courtesy, yielded to Mr. Reed upon the expiration of the latter's term as speaker his own place upon the ways and means committee; otherwise, Mr. Dingley would now be the ranking member on the republican side of the committee. He would thus, on the point of seniority and rank, be entitled to the chairmanship to which, from special ability, probably the great majority of the members of the house think he is entitled. Governor Dingley is, doubtless, better informed as to the details of the tariff than any other member of the house.

As congressmen arrive, the managers of the combine for the house offices are becoming frightened. This is noticeable particularly among the followers of McDowell of Pennsylvania, candidate for clerk of the house. They had supposed that the combination of last spring would be effective and could not be broken. They had calculated the effect upon the southern and western members of the discovery of the fact that all the important house offices are, by this plan, to be given to the east, while the greatest majority of the votes of the members come from the south and west. Earnest efforts are now being made by the combine to secure votes in the south and the west. They have, thus far, been unsuccessful, except in the case of a few isolated western members, to whom it is said that liberal promises of subordinate patronage have been made. Their greatest hope in the west now is that they will secure the solid Ohio vote.

They hope to have this support by agreeing to cast the vote of the combine for an Ohio candidate for postmaster. With the nineteen votes from Ohio, the combine claims that it will be successful. They expect to have many votes in New England, but they do not mention names. The combine has not ventured to solicit the support of the Maine delegation, as it is known that Mr. Reed does not wish to have the speakership contest in any way embarrassed by the strife for the house offices. It is said, also, that two Massachusetts congressmen, one from Vermont and one from New Hampshire, will vote for General Henderson, while the rest of the New England contingent is claimed for McDowell. The greatest concern which the combine has is that pretty nearly the solid south may vote for Henderson of Illinois. A formidable movement toward that end is now in progress.

STORM ON THE OCEAN.

Violent Storm Raging on the Coast of Great Britain.

London, Nov. 25.—The recent storms played sad havoc with shipping along the English channel and the coast of the Atlantic. Four ships which were due in port Saturday or Sunday are believed to have foundered. The violent northeast gale which has prevailed along the British coasts during the last twenty-four hours caused the suspension of the Folkestone-Boulogne service, and the mail steamer, which was unable to make Calais, returned to Dover.

Other steamers from the continent report fearful passages and several casualties to fishing boats and small boats of Lowestoft and elsewhere. The bodies of nine persons have washed ashore near Finistere, France, and it is feared that a serious shipwreck has occurred somewhere in the British channel.

Chicago Platform Ratified.

New York, Nov. 25.—The first mass meeting of the Irish nationalists since the Irish National alliance convention in Chicago in September was held in the Grand opera house last night. The following resolution was adopted by acclamation: "Resolved, That we confirm the proceedings of that convention and pledge our moral and financial support to the Irish National alliance in its efforts to win by any means the national independence of Ireland." Ex-Congressman John F. Finerty, of Chicago, was the orator of the evening, and he spoke for nearly two hours.

Gold Hunters Die in the Mountains.

Mazatlan, Mex., Nov. 25.—The dead bodies of five men, two of whom are recognized as being Americans, have been discovered northwest of here in a wild section of the Sierra Madre mountains. The bodies are supposed to be those of members of a gold prospecting party who left here several weeks ago. It is supposed the party lost their way in the mountains and died from starvation.

Elevator and Mills Destroyed.

New York, Nov. 25.—The large elevator and mills of the Elevating and Milling company, owned by Quinlan, Travis & Co., at Port Richmond, S. I., were totally destroyed by fire last night. The cause of the fire was an explosion in the rear of the building. No one can account for the explosion. The loss is estimated at $60,000, partially covered by insurance.

Canadian Delegates Named.

A CONFESSION MADE
BY A BOY MURDERERLAD OWNS UP TO A KILLING AT BROWNSVILLE, ORE.

Lloyd Montgomery Says He Shot Mc Kercher at Brownsville, Ore., but Denies the Killing of His Parents—Brutal Deed of a Drunken Hungarian—Burglars Make a Rich Haul

Alliance, Ore., Nov. 25.—All doubts as to the guilt of Lloyd Montgomery, the 18-year-old boy accused of murdering his father, mother and D. R. McKercher, near Brownsville, was removed yesterday when he made a partial confession to Sheriff McFerron. Young Montgomery said:

"I killed McKercher after he had killed father and mother. He had shot them both down and shot once at me, when I seized the gun and shot him. Then I ran away from the house."

The prisoner declared that he did not kill his parents. He told the same story to his attorney and those present with him this evening. The officers feel sure of his guilt now, and express the belief that he will soon make a full confession.

ASSAULTED HIS STEPHILD.

Horrible Crime of a Drunken Hungarian at New York.

New York, Nov. 25.—Andrew Tinks, a Hungarian, while intoxicated yesterday, attempted to assault, then murder his 15-year-old daughter and then committed suicide. The man, his common law wife and her daughter by a former marriage, lived together in a tenement house in Third street. Saturday night they all went to a party, returning home at an early hour in the morning. Shortly after they had retired the woman was awakened by the screams of her daughter. The man had attempted to assault the girl, and, meeting with resistance, was crazed with anger. He seized a knife and thrust it into the girl's back several times. The girl, though horribly cut and bruised, managed to break away from him and escaped from the house. The police were called and found Tinks stretched out on the floor, having fired several shots from a revolver into his neck and head. He died before an ambulance arrived.

Burglars Make a Rich Haul.

Moline, Ill., Nov. 25.—Burglars entered the state bank at Alpha Saturday night, blew open the safe and escaped with $4,700 in cash. The building was provided with the most approved burglar alarms, but that seemed to make no difference to the men who did the job. The safe and contents were insured for $5,000.

Murder at Sioux City, Iowa.

Sioux City, Ia., Nov. 25.—William Royce deliberately murdered Millie Patten, who refused to live with him further. Royce armed himself, declared his purpose, sought the woman and shot her, killing her instantly.

POSTOFFICE AFFAIRS.

Annual Report of the Department Shows a Deficiency.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Postmaster General Wilson has made his first annual report to the president. The receipts of the postoffice department for the year ending June 30, 1895, were $76,171,090, and the expenditures $86,790,172. It is gratifying, says the report, that a large portion of the deficiency occurred in the first quarter of the year and that revenues are increasing with returning prosperity. Mr. Wilson estimates the revenue for the year ending June 30, 1897, at $89,793,120, and the expenditures at $94,817,900, the difference to be made up by congressional appropriation. The postmaster general refers to the growth of the free delivery service and says: "I believe it is good policy for congress and for this department to foster the extension of this service by judicious appropriations and judicious administration."

Russia Triumphs in the East.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 25.—The Novoe Vremya publishes a special dispatch from Vladivostok which, if true, will cause a stir in the world. Purcell, I. T., Nov. 25.—Paul Gluckman, one of the merchants arrested here and charged with having applied the torch to his stock of goods and store building during the conflagration on Tuesday morning last, committed suicide Saturday night by taking morphine. The disgrace of his arrest for arson is supposed to have prompted the deed.

Fishing Smack Sinks.

Sandy Hook, N. J., Nov. 25.—The schooner smack Cornelia M. Kingsland, Capt. Maitland, hailing from Greenport, L. I., returning from a fishing trip with 2,500 codfish on board, went aground on the Ronger shoal this morning. She shortly afterward filled and sank. The crew, nine in number, took to their boats and landed at Sandy Hook, where the life-savers took care of them.

WILL HAVE HIS HEAD
THE MINISTER SAYSBOLD WORDS UTTERED BY TERRELL.

American Missionaries Must Be Fully Protected—Turkish Troops and Christians Fight On the Island of Crete—Quiet Reported at Marsovan—Powers Cannot Delay Action.

Constantinople, Nov. 25.—A report recently became current that the governor of Hadjim had threatened to burn the convent of the town and the barley fields surrounding. Minister Terrell thereupon informed the sublime porte that if any of the three American lady missionaries resident at Hadjim were injured in any way he would demand and obtain the governor's head.

Firmans authorizing the passage in through the Dardanelles of a second guardship are expected to-day.

CONFERENCE NECESSARY.

European Powers Must Take Action Before Next Spring.

London, Nov. 25.—A dispatch to the Times from Constantinople says that the opinion prevails in diplomatic circles that a European conference is indispensable for the settlement of the Turkish question, for, although the powers have agreed, this agreement cannot be changed into action for fear of drawing Europe into a dangerous eastern situation. The winter snows will keep the Asiatic provinces quiet, but something must be done before spring revives the excitement and Macedonia is brought into the movement.

Consuls estimate the loss of property as a result of the Diarbekir riots alone at $2,000,000. General alarm still continues here, despite reassuring reports from the provinces, and the wealthy Armenians sleep at the hotels in preference to remaining at their own houses.

ON THE ISLAND OF CRETE.

The military governor at Canea commanded the Turks, while the Christians were led by a committee. The governor of Canea was wounded.

Everything Quiet at Marsovan

Constantinople, Nov. 25.—No news reached here from the interior on Saturday, except from Marsovan, where all was quiet, though apprehension was felt for the safety of the American missionaries located there and the houses were carefully protected. The sultan Saturday sent a message to Minister Terrell to the effect that no disturbances had been reported from the Anatolia peninsula on Friday or Saturday.

NEW YORK STRIKERS FIRM.

Housewives' and Bridgemen's Unions Show No Signs of Weakening.

New York, Nov. 25.—The meeting of the United Housewives' and Bridgemen's unions at Clarendon hall yesterday was a large one. The session was prolonged for four hours and the situation thoroughly discussed. The men are determined to stick together and show no signs of weakening. They feel strong in their position and are encouraged by the pledges of financial aid from sympathetic unions. Telegrams were read at the meeting that were received from Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, St. Louis, and, in fact, from every city in the country where there is a housewife or bridgeman's union. Other branches of labor have forwarded resolutions of sympathy, endorsing the stand taken by the strikers and advising firmness and no departure from their position.

It is expected that fully 500 men of the cream of the western business and professional circles will sit in the convention. ## WORKING FOR HINSHAW.

New Developments Are Promised in This Famous Case.

Danville, Ind., Nov. 25.—A rumor which is steadily gaining ground promises new developments in the Hinshaw case. While the motion for a new trial is making its way to the supreme court his attorneys are continuing their efforts to prove his innocence. J. O. Parker has been to Michigan to interview a man named Roswell, who formerly lived at Stilesville, and who left here when the grand jury investigation was well on that resulted in the indictment being returned against Hinshaw. Mr. Parker has also called twice to see a man near Stilesville, who says he knows Hinshaw is innocent. It is reported that this man is much affected and cries most of the time over Hinshaw's conviction. It is claimed by Hinshaw's friends that he either has some valuable information heretofore concealed or that the burden is beginning to hang too heavy on his own shoulders.

No matter what the outcome may be the people are looking on the rumors with much anxiety and conjecture to what relief further development will bring to the preacher who is serving his life sentence in the Jeffersonville prison.

CANADA'S IMPORTANCE.

Becomes the Main Highway to the British Empire.

London, Nov. 25.—The Times publishes an article on the Pacific cable and the proposed direct steamship service to Canada. It says that the success of the movement is largely due to Canada. The government does not intend to subsidize the Australian-Pacific service from Australia to Vancouver. It is also understood that the government will subsidize the Atlantic section of the service only on condition that better time can be made over the Canadian Pacific railway than can be made under existing conditions. In both the steamship and the cable schemes the principle is recognized that in order to have British connections exclusively the line must in the first instance be carried westward from the center. By the acceptance of this principle Canada obtains a position she has never occupied before as the main highway of the British empire.

WILL USE BLOODHOUNDS.

Indiana Marshal on the Track of Highwaymen.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 25.—Marshal Johnson of Cuyuga, Ind., came here yesterday and secured bloodhounds to assist in hunting down the murderers of Jesse Stark, who was waylaid and killed at Cuyuga Friday night. Stark, who was a saloon-keeper, was beset by several highwaymen after he had closed his place of business. He had quite a sum of money about his person and made a desperate resistance. He was finally subdued by being pounded over the head with a club. He died a few hours after the assault. Suspicion points to several well known characters who were aware that Stark was well supplied with money.

Will Bolt the Sugar Trust.

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—It is stated that the arrival here of five of the biggest sugar planters of Hawaii forebodes a big deal in sugar, which may result in a war with the sugar trust. Hawaiian planters are under contract for two years to deliver all their product to the trust at the price quoted in New York on the day the sugar arrives, minus a quarter of a cent per pound. The sugar planters want the commission abolished and at the expiration of their contract, if the trust does not come to terms, it is proposed to erect a refinery here or at Honolulu.

Chicago Futurity Race Declared Off.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 25.—The great Chicago futurity, the richest western stake scheduled for 1897, which was transferred to the St. Louis Fair association when the Harlem track was closed, has been declared off. On Oct. 15, when the lists were closed, only 500 entries had been made. An effort was made by the fair association to extend the time of closing until Jan. 1, but because some of the breeders offered opposition to it, it was decided to declare off the stake event that was expected to be worth $50,000.

China Negotiates a Loan.

The government has sent an armed force there to preserve order. Balmacedist newspapers are suggesting that President Montt resign because of his inability to form a ministry."

Fire at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 25.—Fire gutted the main building of the St. Louis Shovel company's extensive plant in this city yesterday. The loss is estimated to be between $30,000 and $100,000, and is nearly covered by insurance.

TRATED AT OMRO.

Omro, Wis., Nov. 25.—[Special]—Burt Little, a contractor of this place, intended to start for the northern lumber region this morning, but when he went to the barn to hitch up his horses, he found both horses dead, their throats having been cut. The perpetrators had singled out Little's horses, as they had passed other teams to get to his. There is no clue to the guilty parties.

You can get a $3 shirt for 75 cents and don't forget that when you come for them we are not just out. Rosenfeld on the bridge.

IS OPPOSED BY QUAY.

Pennsylvania Leader Does Not Favor Reorganization of Senate.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Senator Chandler and a few other republican senators who have been strenuously insisting on a reorganization of the senate along republican lines were considerably surprised to learn that Quay was opposed to their scheme on the ground that it was bad politics.

In questions of party politics the majority of republican senators have always shown a strong tendency to follow Quay's advice. Republican control of the upper house of congress would necessitate a rearrangement of committees and such a proceeding, Senator Quay believes, would arouse republican antagonisms, especially as to those committees which have to deal with financial questions and for control of which silver and anti-silver are now pulling each other's hair.

If these committees are made up to show a majority either for or against silver it will lead to discord in republican ranks. On general grounds, the Pennsylvania senator thinks it is good politics to permit the democrats to continue their control of the senate and assume full responsibility until after the presidential election. Senators Sherman and Proctor approve Senator Quay's suggestion.

Details of Satelli's Elevation.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The details of the ceremony of the elevation of Mgr. Satolli to the cardinalate are practically completed. The ceremony will occur on December 15, at 10:30 a. m., at the cathedral at Baltimore. Archbishop Kain of St. Louis has been chosen to preach the sermon. Mass will be celebrated by Mgr. Satolli after the conferring of the berretta and in his new capacity as cardinal. Cardinal Gibbons and Mgr. Satolli will occupy positions on the gospel and epistle sides of the sanctuary, respectively. The member of the noble guard who brings the berretta from Rome also will be within the sanctuary. An official announcement from Rome says that the consistory will assemble next Monday.

Immigrants Guilty of Smuggling.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 25.—For some time there have been suspicions in the minds of United States customs officials along the Atlantic seaboard and the port of Baltimore that smuggling was carried on systematically through the medium of immigrants coming to this country as steerage passengers. As a result of a complaint customs officials have been notified. Consul Chancellors says that from time to time, at Havre, discovery has been made of valuables secreted among the baggage or other personal effects of embarking steerage passengers.

MURDER IS DONE AT THE WILLOWS

Think Two Drunken Tramps Killed
a Comrade.

BLOODY BLUDGEON FOUND
NEAR THE SCENE.

Revolver that Was Thought to Have Been Used Also Discovered Hidden

Under a Tree—Post Mortem And An Inquest to Be Held—Men Under Arrest Claim They Acted in Self

Defense—Saturday Night's Affray.

A murder on the "state line."

At last it has happened.

Beloit physicians are this morning
holding a post mortem examination on a man called "Slinger," while W. J.

Grier and an unknown man are sitting sullenly in their cells in the Line
City lock-up.

"The Willows" was the scene of the killing; the "Willows gang" the actors in the play.

Saturday night Marshal Appleby was notified that some tramps had a bonfire in the lower part of the city.

The officers went down and found a man lying on the snow with two tramps standing over him with a revolver. They told the officer that their companion had a "wild spell" and tried to kill them with his revolver,

and they had knocked him down to save their lives. Marshal Appleby heard two pistol shots before he reached the scene and the tramps explained to him
that they had fired to try the revolver.

The tramp who was down seemed to be drunk rather than hurt and the police left them. Later the two tramps told the marshal that their friend seemed to be bad off and the police took him to the station.

Death Came Soon.

The man had not been at the lockup long before death came to his release. He was about thirty years old, slight of stature and is known to the police as "Slinger." Aside from that nothing is known about him.

The whole party was drunk, and the men arrested claim they acted in self defense. One of them says his name is W. J. Grier, while the other refuses to tell his name.

The police say that the circumstances
do not bear out the self defense theory. When Marshal Appleby arrived at the scene
the first time, the tramps were engaged in taking the shells from the revolver. Then they put the weapon in the dead man's hip pocket. When the marshal made his second visit, he found that the revolver was gone.

Search for it resulted in its being found wrapped in a handkerchief
under the roots of a tree. The club with which "slinger" had been pounded was also found. It lay on the snow some twenty feet from the scene. Blood and hair were still sticking to it. Both the bludgeon and the revolver are now in the hands of the officers.

Sheriff Appleby was notified by his brother and left for Beloit yesterday morning. Last night he came home but returned to the Line City this morning.

Hold a Post Mortem.

The officers now think that "Slinger" was shot as well as pounded with the club, and a post mortem examination was held this morning to see if such was the case. An inquest will also be held, and in the meantime the two suspects are kept under lock and key.

The alleged fight occurred in "The Willows," on a triangular piece of land bounded by the state line, the
C. & N. W. railroad and the river, which has been a great "hang out" for tramps. All three men are of the "hobo" class, and the police hint
at the assumption that they fell out over the division of some plunder. The Willows has long been a place where lawlessness was rampant and now that a murder has been committed there, the reputation of the spot can be considered to be complete. It was reported last night that the fight occurred in Illinois but that is not true.
The land is all in Wisconsin.

The two accused men will be held at Beloit to await the coroner's finding.
If they are charged with the crime,
they will be examined at that city, so in all probability Rock county jail will not shelter them for a time at least.

Slinger, this morning. The alleged crime was committed near the state line, in a small patch of woods where he and other tramps were enjoying the warmth of a fire kindled with wood stolen from Richard Gaarde's wood yard near by. The circumstances, as near as can be ascertained, are that Slinger was enjoying the fire and a bottle of alcohol by himself, when he was joined by two other hoboes, one going under the name of Frank Waterman and another, who would not divulge his name, and invited them to drink. Upon their refusal he pulled out a revolver
and attempted to shoot Waterman and his pal, snapping the gun twice in Waterman's face, whereupon the latter's partner struck Slinger on the head with a club, knocking him senseless. Gaarde reported the theft of his wood to Marshal Appleby who visited the scene and found the two tramps examining the broken pieces of the revolver and Slinger lying senseless by the fire.

Said Slinger Was All Right.

He inquired into the cause of Slinger's condition and was assured by the other two that he was all right, and will come around in a little while and with an admonition to leave Gaarde's wood alone and leave the city, he left the tramps to look after their wounded comrade. Later on in the evening Gaarde again reported the stealing of wood from his pile, and while Apple-
by was hustling down to the vicinity of the old mill factory, he was accosted by Waterman and his pal
who stated that Slinger had not regained consciousness and suggested that the marshal take care of him and in the meantime they would "fly de coop." But Appleby suspected all was not right and placed the two tramps in jail. He then returned and took the still unconscious Slinger to jail in the patrol. A physician was summoned who stated that Slinger injuries were not a serious nature and that he would soon recover. But in spite of this the wounded man grew worse and about 9 o'clock he died.

A coroner's jury was empanelled and after viewing the remains adjourned
until this morning.

The dead man was about 30 years of age, tall and sparely built with dark hair and mustache. He had apparently not been a hard working man, as his muscles were flabby and his hands soft and uncalloused. Resides a small wound at the back of the head, the one supposed to have caused his death, his nose had been broken and bled profusely.

It is the opinion of the officers this morning and others that one of the prisoners at least is an old criminal,
and the other, who has given his name as W. J. Grier, is a bright looking young man who has but lately
gone on the road.

It's Too Low

Clothing in price is so low at Winslow's that's a shame to sell it at the present figures. The public is sav-coats. F. S. Winslow.

Lecture On Providence.

In the course of his lecture at All Souls church, Rev. V. E. Southworth said:

"The idea of an unnatural super-naturalness has bedegged human thought long enough. There is no real distinction in these terms. The fact is—the part of the supernatural with which we have grown familiar we call "natural," and that part of the natural with which we are not familiar we call "supernatural." Ages ago when men gave a loose rein to imagination and knew not the use of reason, the commonest events were miraculous, or as we should say unaccountable. Every fountain had its maid, every grove its nymph, over wave swept coast its sirens. Nothing happened in those days without the intervention of special providences. On all hands were the easily purchasable "supernatural" answers to man's prayer. Everywhere were spirits and gnomes,
elf and fairies, ghosts and goblins,
gods and devils. The whole world
was bewitched with the supernatural.

But now the days of fairy tales and miracles are gone. Providence is no longer a ghost but a reality.

Divine help is so absolute in its scope and character as to be equally manifest in every operation of the great forces in nature. A perfect and perpetual providence is everywhere manifest.

The Christian Endeavors.

The Christian Endeavor meeting of the Congregational church was well attended and full of interest. The expression of the members showed a deep spirit of thankfulness. Good or restored health, kind friends, pleasant homes, helpful church life, our public schools, the Y. M. C. A., the advance strides of the Evangelical church
shown by the last census, together with the fact that the Endeavor society had been the means of bringing many young people nearer to Christ, were some of the reason mentioned for which people were thankful.

The union service of the young people to be held Thanksgiving at 9:30 a.
m. promises to be a very helpful meeting. A large attendance of both old and young is anticipated.

The Junior society of Christian Endeavor of the Congregational church is growing in interest and numbers. The boys and girls are busy every Thursday afternoon dressing dolls and preparing other gifts to be sent to the children in the state home for children at Sparta.

FUR CAPES,
CLOTH CAPES,
CLOTH JACKETS,
ASTRAKHAN COATS,
MISSES' CLOAKS,
CHILDREN'S CLOAKS

WE have fully decided on a vigorous campaign to reduce our stock of Winter
Garments.

PROFITS will be ignored—
one object—to reduce our stock.

WE have enjoyed an exceptionally large business in our Cloak department.

OUR styles seem to have hit
the public fancy as never before.

SATISFIED with our largely increasing Cloak trade
over any former season,
for the balance of the year all garments will be sold at figures that will command the attention of people needing Cloaks.

THIS is no idle talk, no chaff
just to gain your attention, to get you to the store and then ask old prices, but we will carry
our intentions, our purpose as outlined above
and give you better
Cloaks for the money
than you can find anywhere else,

IT is well known that we show
the largest line of stylish reliable, trustworthy, satisfaction-giving Cloaks;
such as you can buy with perfect confidence.

NOT gathered from all comers
of the earth so to speak,
from any house that offers them, regardless of how they are made or the quality of the material,
but bought from the best manufacturers in the United States, who value
their reputation as we do ours.

WE would not be guilty of selling the class of garments that are shown in some Janesville stores
today; made merely for show, but when it comes to wear, think of the disappointed people and how they have been taken in.

BUY a reliable garment.

DON'T try to get one too
low, for it is poor economy.

THE LOCAL OVERFLOW.

PRIZE WON FOR MANY "CUTS." JANESVILLE HOSTESS ENTERTAINS HER FRIENDS AND TEACHES A VALUABLE LESSON.

A bright Jackson street hostess entertained her friends and suggested the value of cuts in advertising at the same time. Pictures from magazine advertisements were clipped out and pasted on little cards. These were given out about the parlors and half an hour was given to guessing on the firms represented. It took less than a minute to show how closely the cuts and names of advertisers were connected, and to prove the cuts to be the vital part of most of the advertisements. They were recognized long before any typographical catch-line would have been.

Another thing suggested was the poor judgement of some large advertisers in choosing cuts. Out of forty cuts six were not identified. These were without exception pictures that threw no light on the business advertised—pictures used simply because they were pretty or humorous. Where the picture had any logical significance, it was found, nine out of ten of the contestants called the advertisers name instantly.

With the Regularity of Shuttle, and nearly as swift the trains of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R. y. make their trips between Chicago and New York, weaving closer and closer day by day the many mutual interests of these great commercial centers of the United States. Departing from the Van Buren street station, located in the heart of the business district of Chicago and arriving in New York at the Grand Central station, 42nd street the popularity of this line in point of time and convenience is readily understood. It seems almost superfluous to add that for this service the equipment embodies all that is new and modern in the art of car building, apparently nothing that would give one a feeling of safety, comfort and luxury, has been overlooked. The schedule provides morning, afternoon and evening trains. Latest time table with any information desired will be promptly furnished on application. J. B. Hurley, T. P. A., 95 Wisconsin street, Milwaukee, Wis.; O. K. Wilber, Western Passenger Agent, Chicago.

All persons who have chairs, pictures, etc., that they wish to present to the Y. M. C. A., will confer a double favor by leaving words or the furnishings themselves—at the new building. The ladies wish to know what they are to get in order that they may make their plans accordingly. The new beds for the seven dormitories are now at the building. They are made of white enameled iron with brass trimmings and are handsome and durable. The new carpets have all been made up and the work can go forward just as soon as the ladies "know where they stand" in regard to contributions. Considerable bedding, etc., has already been given, for which the ladies are very thankful.

LUTTON WILL ARREST ENNIS
Superior Chief of Police Says he Says Has Been Labeled.

The dispatches from Superior says that Chief of Police Lutton will swear out complaint against John Ennis and Charles Mosebaugh, the gamblers whose place was pulled last Tuesday night, charging them with criminal libel. Both Ennis and Mosebaugh, the day after the pulling of their place made affidavit, copies of which are now in the possession of the chief. Ennis swore that on Nov. 8 he paid $50 to the chief for protection in his business. Mosebaugh swears that he gave $50 to Ennis with the understanding that it was to be used in bribing an officer of the law. The chief makes a denial of the charge.

Force their way into many a household that might be protected from their inroads, by the simple precaution of keeping in the house that healthful family medicine and safeguard of health Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Particularly where there are children, should it be kept on hand as a prompt remedy for infantile complaints, in their outset easily conquerable, but which, if allowed to engrain themselves on the delicate childish organism, are not only easily dislodged, and speedily work grievous mischief, irregularity of the bowels, indigestion and biliousness are ailments of common occurrence in the household. Children, living in malarious regions, are more liable to be attacked with chills and fever than adults, and the ravages of that fell disease in their system are speedier and more serious. In remote localities, far from professional aid, it is especially desirable.

CANTILLON HAS A GOOD NINE.
Janesville Base Ball Man Now on the Pacific Coast.

A correspondent, writing from the coast, speaks as follows of Joe Cantillon's players, nearly all Western association men: Cantillon has landed his "rabbits," as he calls them, on top. He has won twelve out of the eighteen games played out here. The next club to him is John Barnes' Frisco boys, who have won nine out of the eighteen. So when Sunday night comes Los Angeles is bound to be the winner. Great credit should be given Cantillon, as he picked a team in five days after the close of the Western league season, that has won the series from the three strongest teams in the Western league and he picked his team all from the Western association. Cantillon is playing first and second base perfectly.

Plausible Argument.
Between the passenger offices of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway and the freight depot there is a little spot of green sward that the public has few opportunities of observing. A tall fence shuts off the view from the street, so that it is only when the large gate has been left open through mistake that passers-by get a chance to see the little park.

Several days ago the gate was standing open, and two countrymen who happened to be passing stopped for a closer inspection.

"What do you suppose that's for?" said one.

"Don't know, unless it's where the railroad grazes its stock," was the reply.

"Pshaw; railroads don't have no stock," said the other in disgust. "You bet they do," said his companion, "because I read in a paper about them watering their stock and I guess stock has got to eat as well as drink."—Baltimore American.

The Japanese in Formosa.

It is not the Black Flags who are now opposing the advance of the Japanese in Formosa. It is the Hakka yeomen and peasantry the men who have been accustomed all their lives, and their fathers before them, to till the fields with a gun beside them, prepared for savages that might drop upon them at any moment on a head hunting foray. These men, who till now have only had matchlocks, have been supplied with good arms and plenty of ammunition, and have been filled with dreadful stories of what the Japanese will do to them. They have no organization or discipline, but they are brave and determined and can carry on a guerrilla warfare for an indefinite period, fighting, as they believe they are, for their hearths and homes.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1748—Isaac Watts, the hymn writer, died in London; born 1674.

1755—General Jean Joseph Amable Humbert, a French soldier of fortune, born in Lorraine; died in New Orleans in 1823.

General Humbert had neither fortune nor lineage to help him into favor. He was born poor and depended upon personal talents for advancement. Those he possessed to a remarkable degree, and in an age of capable soldiers arose to the rank of a general of brigade. He was a republican. Under the great Hoche he distinguished himself, and in the invasion of Ireland, in 1798, commanded the French army. He defeated a large force under General Lake, but was himself defeated and taken prisoner by Cornwallis. Later he served in Haiti and aspired to the hand of Pauline, sister of Napoleon and wife of the unfortunate General Leclerc. Being banished from France for his audacious suit, he settled in New Orleans.

1764—Bogarth, the English painter and caricaturist, died; born 1697.

1783—Evacuation of New York by the British, the last position held by them in the United States.

1860—Terrible storm on the European coast; the British steamer Royal Charter wrecked, and 455 persons drowned.

1866—Brutus Brooks, noted New York journalist and politician, died; born 1815.

1868—Congressman Charles O'Neill, called "the father of the house," died in Philadelphia; born 1821.

THINGS have come to a sorry pass when a store tries to please its customers with trash goods. There is no trouble with Adler Bros' tailor made goods; you are always pleased with them; they cost a trifle more, of course, than trash, but what of it? We are Adler Bros' agents. F. H. Baack.

Is an ounce of prevention worth a pound of cure? If it is a thirty two ounce all wool Irish frieze ulster fifty two inches long is a perfect cure for chills. Most every man has them and it is either the doctor or an overcoat. We think an overcoat is the cheapest if you get a good one. Genuine Irish coats $19 if bought of us. F. H. Baack.

How do you expect to see good clothing unless you go where it is kept? We keep Adler Bros' make and think it is good enough for any up to date dresser. At any rate it is conceded to be by good judges, and costs but little more than trash. You can't find Adler Bros' goods at department stores. F. A. Baack.

AFTER TEN HAPPY YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor P. Richardson Mark Their Tin Wedding.

A delightful family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Richardson, Saint Lawrence Place, Saturday evening. The occasion was the tenth anniversary of the marriage of Victor P. Richardson and Mary Emma Dimock, Nov. 23, 1885. Between thirty and forty members of the two families were present and the evening hours passed very happily and all too quickly. Tinware abounded, much of it being garnished with beautiful flowers. The effect of such ornamentation was unique and very pretty. Relations were present from out of the city. Conspicuous among them were Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hanks of Madison. This matrimonial ship, which was launched so joyously on the "great sea" ten years ago, is still afloat, with colors bright and breezy as then—the master and mate happy in the success of their voyage. We note, too, with much interest, the little "maid of the ship" who came aboard during the voyage, and so valuable has she proven that she has been taken into full partnership and is often in joint command of the ship. Little Emma Theresa added much to the happiness of the occasion. Elegant refreshments were served, and the "good night" came before we were ready for it, but the occasion will not soon be forgotten by those who participated in it. ***

Overcoats Must Go

Up to this date we have sold more overcoats than the entire of last season. The reason is easily explained. We had an elegant line from the start and have been compelled to replenish it from time to time, so that it's continually fresh. Then again we have been low on prices, the times demanding it. We have lots of them left and they will all go at ridiculously low figures. Until the first of January we are going to shove them hard. Seeing is always believing. Come and see the stock. Manager J. M. Ward's production of "Delmonico's at 6" will be the attraction at Myers Grand Friday and there is every reason to believe a highly entertaining performance will be given. The company with which Manager Ward has surrounded this organization is composed of the following well known people. ## EMINENT TESTIMONY

Regarding the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Dr. Hartzman, who has made many tests of the new dyspepsia cure, is very enthusiastic in his praise of this excellent preparation. It is not a secret patent medicine, but is composed of pure pepsin, bismuth, fruit salts and vegetable essences, made into pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges and sold by druggists at 50 cents per package, under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Dr. Hartzman states that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure dyspepsia and weak stomachs, because they possess the peculiar power of digesting whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach. They do not act on the bowels like cathartics, but act entirely on the food, digesting it thoroughly and quickly, giving the stomach a chance to rest and recover its natural strength, which it invariably will do after a course of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. If your druggist hasn't them in stock ask him to order a small quantity from his wholesaler.

BY A STREET CAR.

Dispatch Told Chief Acheson to Notify Janesville Relatives and the Remains Will Arrive Here This Evening—Death of Mrs. Elza Bolte—
Other Death.

Chief of Police Acheson received a telegram yesterday morning from J.
O. Peppin of Chicago, notifying him of the death of William Dailey formerly of this city, and asking him to hunt
up and inform his relatives at once.

Dailey's mother resides on South River street and his brother Albert left last evening for Chicago to bring the remains to this city, and will arrive on the midnight train tonight.

Dailey, it is gathered from the telegrams, was killed by the street cars
at Chicago. He is a brother of Ber. J.

BOYLAN IS IN JAIL FOR STEALING $6

TOOK THE MONEY FROM THOMAS HANLAN.

Trouble Occurred Saturday Night and Officer Hogan Locked Him Up and the Accused Man Admitted the Theft—Two Horses Disappear
Very Mysteriously.

Officer Hogan arrested Joseph Boylan Saturday night, on the charge of robbery and put him in jail. The police received word that two men were engaged in a quarrel near Mullenschlager's saloon, on Academy street.
Officer Hogan at once went up there
but found only one man near the spot.
He gave him the name as Thomas Hanlan, living near Brooklyn, Wis., and informed the officer that he had been robbed of $6, and gave such a good description of the thief that Boylan
was soon arrested and lodged in jail.
He confessed the crime.

THE MONOTYPE CRAZE.

It Is Becoming Popular and Threatens to Develop into a Wild Fad.

An effective departure in art is the new monotype that is beginning to find its way to America from Paris, where it has enjoyed for some months a violent popularity. The process was discovered by Hubert Herkimer. The artistic folk of Paris were quick to see its possibilities, and the fame thereof flew like wildfire throughout the inflammable painters' quarters. Monotype parties have been one of the latest fads of these appreciative people. Artists infected with the craze and their curious friends gather in some accessible studio in ardent groups to turn out these pictures. The excitement lies in the fact that no one can foresee quite how they will turn out, the pleasure, not in the novelty, though that, of course, contributes to it, but mostly in the potent truth that in no other way can the same effects of light and shade be obtained. To produce the monotype the artist paints his study upon a zinc plate, which is put through a press. As the name implies, only one impression is produced. Those that are done in one color are the most successful as yet, though some of the two-color attempts are very charming. The subtlety of certain delicate effects, as, for instance, sunlight on water, is rendered by this new phase of art in a truly marvelous manner. Although the cordiality of Paris may not be expected, perhaps, in America, for the monotype, there can be no doubt that they will be warmly received here, when they are once at home in our art exhibits and when, too, the public has learned to understand them sufficiently to appreciate the fact that a favorite study, produced in this way, will not be found duplicated in a neighbor's drawing room; this is now the fear of the careless art patron who seems to have some hazy idea of etchings in his mind. The practical wife of an artist who has lately returned from Paris with the monotype fever raging in his blood, complains ruefully: "Why, my husband took the clothes-wringer away from the maids for a press to produce those pictures!" She smiled with a woman's superiority as she added: "He said they could have it back again! It would take at least three hours to remove that oily paint with turpentine every time they used it." With a sigh, "I have bought a new wringer." So there is a sordid side to even such gems of art as his wife displays with a pride that must soften, if it does not efface, the domestic inconvenience.

The esthetic side is Venetian scenes in brown, an old stone bridge in gray, mountain peaks and a seascape in blue, and a cluster of picturesque willows in green. Who could mind the loss of one wringer after feasting the eyes on such exquisite shading, particularly if it isn't her wringer?

CATTLE HOLD UP A TRAIN.

The Bull Charged the Locomotive and Derailed It.

A fight between a locomotive and a wild bull was the spectacle that entertained and delayed the passengers on a Spanish railway train the other day, says the Spanish paper which tells the story. Coming around a curve between the stations of Moravel and Canavare, near the Portuguese frontier, the engineer saw a herd of wild cattle on the track ahead. He sounded the whistle and the surprised cattle—all but one—took to their heels. The one that remained was a huge bull, who lowered his head and with a hoarse bellow charged straight at the oncoming engine. The shock killed the bull and derailed the locomotive.

While the trainmen and passengers were doing their best to get the engine on the track again the herd of savage cattle, having got over their fright, returned to the fray and charged the workers, who retired hastily to the cars, where they barricaded themselves. Then a veritable siege began. After the first few moments of stupefied surprise had passed, the gendarmes, who always accompany Spanish trains, gathered courage and commenced an attack with stones upon their four-footed enemies. In reading the Spanish journalist's spirited account of the heroism of the military one becomes lost in a maze of conjecture as to why they did not use their guns. At any rate, the battle lasted two long hours, and toward nightfall the wild cattle decided to beat a retreat.

The passengers and the train crew finally got the locomotive on the rails again and "cabin-caha" (which is French for "merrily") it proceeded on its way.

Men Milliners Before Worth.

There were men dressmakers before Worth. The first celebrity who made his mark in this particular line was Rhomberg, the son of a Bavarian peasant from the neighborhood of Munich. One day in May, 1730, a beautiful equipage was seen driving about Paris with an escutcheon in the shape of a corset and an open pair of scissors in middle painted on the panel of each door; that was Rhomberg's coat of arms, and it told its own tale. He was a genius in his way, and owed his success chiefly to his skill in disguising slight deformities and bringing out the most attractive charms of his fair customers. He rapidly made a fortune, and left his heirs an annual income of £2,000. Under the first empire and the restoration, Leroy supplied the dresses of the ladies of the court and the higher nobility from his splendid mansion in the Rue Richelieu. An effusive encomium was written upon him by Augur, a member of the Academy.

BENEFITS OF SANITATION.

Great Financial Loss Comes to Many Communities From Sickness and Death.

This is a hard, practical age that demands money value for every progressive step, and efforts to improve sanitary conditions are too often retarded by this mercenary claim. As arguments of sanitation present some remarkable statistics, showing financial loss, individually and as a whole, to communities when an epidemic prevails. A number of very interesting tables and diagrams have been compiled by G. E. Willets, of Michigan, showing mortality from general and specific causes covering a period of 250 years. His search of the records of England has been very thorough, resulting principally in estimates of London and English counties, says New York Times.

From his tables, simply arranged with heavy black columns, varying in length according to the percentage of mortality, it is shown that in London from 1660 to 1679 the rate of mortality from fevers alone was $75 per 100,000 persons. In 1888 it was but 17, more than fifty times less. The reduction shows greatest between 1801 and 1810, then a considerable decrease followed from 1831 to 1840, after which it remained about stationary through 1841 to 1871, showing slight change to 1888. Similar progress is indicated for consumption, but greater for smallpox. The latter disease killed 502 persons in every 100,000 just previous to Jenner's discovery, in 1789. In 1885 there was only 9 deaths from smallpox to 100,000. A remarkable decrease is indicated also for all general causes. In 1679 the rate stands at 80 deaths for every 1,000 inhabitants, and diminishes to 18.4 in 1888 in London.

The greatest progress has been made, of course, since sanitation became a science, and increasing advancement is shown when people have learned that the adoption of its measures saves money. In most states the maximum value of a man's life is put at $5,000 and the minimum $1,000 for damages. William Farr, in his cold calculations of mortality and loss, estimated the life of an English farm laborer at $1,200 and a woman's about $500 less.

These figures are too low for American labor, and decidedly low for a large portion of the middle class. For illustration, however, the conservative figure $1,000 is generally used. This amount multiplied by the death rate of a given place gives the approximate loss to that community. This does not include loss from sickness, which some statisticians estimate on a basis of ten or twelve cases to every death.

In small towns, where sanitary measures have not been generally adopted and a proper sewerage system is unknown, barring epidemics, the number of deaths yearly has generally averaged 4 to 7 per 10,000 population. Taking the money value of each life at $1,000 the amount of loss to the town is obvious.

Outwitting an Indian.

Fighters of Indians need to be men of quick wit and a steady hand. Such a man was John Hawks, one of the settlers of Hadley, Mass. An exploit of this pioneer, in 1676, is narrated by the historian of Deerfield. The Indians had made an attack upon Hatfield, and troops from other towns had gone to the rescue. Among the men from Hadley was John Hawks.

Soon after the Hadley men got ashore John Hawks, who was behind a tree, heard some one call him by name. A Pocumtuck Indian, who had taken a position behind another tree, had recognized Hawks as an old acquaintance.

Hawks returned the compliment, and each man began taunting the other, and daring his enemy to come into the open and fight the thing out.

The Indian had the best of it, and was perfectly aware of his advantage. At any moment some of the gathering Indians were likely to come up behind Hawks and force him out of his cover. Under these circumstances, of course, the Indian was in no haste to expose himself.

However, the white man was not blind to the danger of his own situation. Something must be done, and that speedily. He knew what his adversary counted upon, and that gave him his clue.

All at once he sprang from behind his tree, and leveled his gun as if to repel an attack from another direction. The Pocumtuck took the bait, and sprang forward. He would capture Hawks the moment his gun was empty.

Quick as thought the white man wheeled, and before the Indian could raise his gun or reach his cover gave him a fatal shot. It was all the work of a few seconds, and Hawks, though wounded in the ensuing fight, lived to fight other battles.

A Tale for the Youth.

Once upon a time two boys played marbles upon the Sabbath day.

Their names were John and William. When they returned to their homes, John was whaled with a trunkstrap, while William was merely chided and suffered to go his way in peace.

The boys grew to be men.

John became the implacable foe of wealth in all forms and talked incessantly about it, while William was a millionaire and a member of several corporations. And yet there can be no doubt that William would have been just as good a man as John, had he been subjected to restraint in his youth.

Dear reader, when you have played marbles upon the Sabbath, insist upon the trunkstrap, and take nothing else. It is your right. Do not be bluffed out of it.

Two New York Cloak houses

with Chicago offices where they displayed their entire sample lines being through with their season and not wanting to pay express charges on the garments to New York, offered them to us at a liberal discount and always on the lookout for snags, we were right there and made the deal with both for the entire lines. These garments were made up to show to the best merchants in the west, and were made particularly well, not one but what is right in every way. They were never handled on the road, but have only been shown in Chicago and are therefore in better shape than would be the case with those made up now in the mid-season rush. They are in stock today and comprise many exclusive styles not seen heretofore in ladies' and misses' jackets, in boucles, chevots, kerseys; also plush and cloth capes and fur garments.

Don't buy a cloak of any kind until you look here where we positively guarantee to save you one-third.
